

NEWS LETTER

MARCH 2025

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Dear Parents

With the deepest reverence, we pen down our heartfelt gratitude to the esteemed parents seated before us, whose indefatigable support has been the bedrock of Eduletics International A British School's journey. Your role has been nothing short of pivotal in sculpting the institution into its present stature. No words can truly encapsulate the profundity of our appreciation. As March draws to a close, we stand at the cusp of a significant juncture – the triumphant culmination of our very first academic year. With rekindled ardor and a vision set for loftier horizons, we now prepare to embark on yet another illustrious chapter.

Your invaluable insights have been the guiding light that shaped the graceful conclusion of the 2024-25 session. Each of your ideas blended seamlessly into our efforts, refining them into a rewarding outcome. This journey has been one of cherished accomplishments – moments of triumph that brought joy and challenges that tested our resilience, each adding depth to the story of a year well spent.

The past year has been a transformative experience for many, particularly for our students, who have evolved in ways beyond measure. While success is a journey that demands time, we are confident that their sustained efforts will eventually lead them toward becoming accomplished individuals. Last year, our primary objective was to cultivate effective English communication among our students, and we are committed to continuing this endeavor in the year ahead. We trust that our students will remain dedicated and supportive as we work together to enhance their communication skills.

Additionally, we would like to express our heartfelt gratitude for making the recent Parent-Teacher Meeting (PTM) an outstanding success. It is always a pleasure to witness the active and positive participation of our parents in discussions about their children's academic progress. We see this turnout as a powerful reflection of our parents' dedication and a remarkable achievement in itself. The absence of any signs of dismay among the parents was particularly gratifying, and we view this as one of the most significant achievements in our journey thus far.

As we bring this final monthly edition of the 2024-25 academic year to a close, we would like to express our heartfelt gratitude for all the support and kindness you've extended to us. We eagerly anticipate reconnecting with you in the upcoming editions of the new academic year.

Wishing you an enriching and delightful reading experience ahead!

Final Term

A Culmination of the Academic Voyage

As the Final Term draws to a close, it marks not just the conclusion of an academic season but the beginning of a well-earned respite for our students. The school, once alive with their laughter and boundless energy, now echoes with an unfamiliar silence, as if the vibrant flock of young minds has momentarily taken flight to distant horizons. And rightfully so—for after months of tenacity, unflinching dedication, and the resolve to surmount every academic challenge, they have earned this much-anticipated interlude to chase their passions and dreams beyond the confines of textbooks.

“Final term exams
are not just a test of knowledge
but an emblem to endurance
and growth.”

Reflecting on their Final Examinations, we take immense pride in the way our students approached this decisive phase. Their preparation was so resolute that anxiety found no place to overshadow their performance. Whether seated in the examination hall, confronting the question paper with composure, or engaging in post-exam discussions with keen introspection, they displayed remarkable confidence. Some days concluded with triumphant smiles, while others carried a hint of disappointment, yet their indefatigable spirit remained unchanged. With each new day, they returned with rekindled enthusiasm, refusing to let the weight of the past hinder their progress. And now, with bated breath, we await the much-anticipated results—an affirmation of their relentless efforts and intellectual growth.

Bonds of Honor, Legacy of Love

“Bonds
aren't measured in time

but in the echoes
of shared moments.”

"Colors may fade, but the hues of belonging remain eternal."

A year is more than enough to weave bonds that turn mere acquaintances into cherished connections. This sentiment was profoundly felt when our teachers met their students one last time as their class teachers and subject mentors, marking the culmination of a shared journey.

The occasion was a heartfelt tribute—an event dedicated to adorning our Edulites with badges that bore not just symbols of recognition but also the weight of love and unspoken aspirations. From Grade K2 to Grade 8, every class, accompanied by its class teacher, infused the day with a rare essence, where eager anticipation intertwined with the bittersweet hues of nostalgia. Silent glances spoke volumes, laughter resonated like echoes of treasured memories, and unbidden tears carried whispers of countless untold stories.

Adding a radiant touch to the day, teachers applied vibrant tilaks on the students' foreheads, embracing the spirit of the festival of colors with warmth and blessings. And as the badges were pinned onto their blazers, they became more than just tokens—they became insignias of honor, a reflection of the deep-rooted pride of being an Edulite, a legacy carried forward with an indomitable spirit.

Rhythms of Expression: A Celebration of Oratory Excellence!

“Every
voice
carries a story—
those who dare to express,
leave a mark.”

Recently, we hosted the Rhythm of Expression week—a platform where countless students, eager to showcase their oratory brilliance, took the stage with confidence and flair. Carefully curated, the categories were tailored to suit each grade, ensuring a space where every voice found its rhythm.

What made this event truly remarkable was the undaunted fervor of the participants. Despite the looming presence of their Annual Exams, their dedication remained undeterred. Balancing rigorous preparation for both the competition and academics, they proved that passion and perseverance know no bounds.

As the Rhythm of Expression week drew to a close, anticipation filled the air as participants ardently anticipated the much-cherished results.

The long-awaited day finally arrived, celebrating the brilliance of young orators. Students were honored with certificates, recognizing their poise in presence, precision in speech, and artistry in expression—a true embodiment of their dedication. The announcement of winners ignited waves of joy, with applause resonating through the audience. Their faces, illuminated with pride and elation, mirrored the triumph of passion and unfaltering resolve.

“Speech is more than words;
it is the art of commanding hearts.”

Without proper self-
evaluation,
the failure is inevitable.

As in every form of life, examinations have a great significance in all aspects of our life which pave the way for amazing futuristic transformations. Its apparent that with the curiosities to have a glance of their wards' performance, our parents started gathering at the break of the day, awaiting their chance to interact. The curious crowd kept the school authorities busy for whole day. The overall result of the school was magnificent which was reflecting an evident satisfaction on the faces of parents. We concluded the day by wishing luck and success to the students for upcoming academic session.

INDUCTION

CLASSES

Induction
is all about inculcating
ethos and culture
of the institution.

The transition of students from one grade to another and especially new entrants need a support of the organization in a way to develop a sense of belongingness and an awareness of their rights as well as responsibilities.

As a custom of learning and living together, this year also we organized induction classes before the commencement of new academic session for students to acclimatize with the new surroundings and develop bond with fellow students and teachers.

Students have gone through the different activities like singing in choir, playing in groups, chanting in unison and interaction session with teachers discussing the achievements of school.

The "Art and Craft Session" was the sight to behold. Every student was busy in showing his skills and express his creativity which mingled them in learning a lesson of teamwork and competitiveness.

it's not only for the students but teachers too have participated wholeheartedly in accepting all the questions of students and felt elated in becoming the part of the activity sessions with the upcoming proud edulites.
