SEPTEMBER 2025

EDULETICS INTERNATIONAL A BRITISH SCHOOL

Message from the Principal

Dear Parents

At the very outset we extend our heartfelt thankfulness to you for your undaunted faith and continued support. It is your trust in our vision that strengthens our resolve to nurture and guide every child with dedication. With the post mid-term now successfully underway we are delighted to share that the teaching–learning process is progressing smoothly and students are engaging with enthusiasm in all academic pursuits. Your presence both moral and academic has always been a pillar of strength for us and we sincerely thank you for standing beside the institution whenever your support was most needed.

As we look ahead the month of December holds a special significance for us for it brings the celebration of our Annual Function. Preparations are gradually taking shape and we look forward to weaving together performances, expressions and experiences that will leave lasting memories. This journey however calls for a delicate balance between academics and rehearsals. We humbly seek your cooperation in ensuring that students are able to give their best on stage while not losing sight of their academic responsibilities. With your encouragement at home and our guidance at school we are confident of creating harmony between both aspects.

The present month and the ones to follow are also filled with the spirit of festivity. Each celebration—whether traditional or contemporary—brings with it rare lessons of unity, reverence, compassion and joy. We urge you to help our children understand the essence of these festivities so they may learn that beyond rituals lie timeless values that shape the world we aspire to build—one rooted in nobility, empathy and shared humanity.

We also encourage you to spend meaningful time with your families during this festive season. These moments of togetherness not only strengthen bonds but also instil in our children the faith that goodness, kindness and hope will always light their path. Let us join hands in nurturing in them the belief that life is to be celebrated with virtue and shared joy.

With deepest appreciation we thank you once again for walking this journey with us. Until we meet again in the next edition let us continue to inspire, uplift and create together a brighter future for our children.

Happy reading!
(Team EBS)

Honouring the hearts that teach beyond books!

Can a single day ever capture the immeasurable impact of our teachers? Surely not. A teacher is more than an instructor—they are a guide of minds, a nurturer of dreams, dedicating time, care and wisdom to students, often more than a parent can at home. This Teacher's Day our students honoured their mentors with love, creativity and sincerity. In the bustle of daily life, children rarely pause to reflect on the guidance and encouragement teachers provide yet today they expressed it through genuine effort rather than material gifts. Watching their performances, we could clearly see the depth of respect and admiration they hold. It reminded us that teaching shapes not only knowledge but also character, courage and inspiration.

This celebration extends its gratitude to parents as well who quietly guide their children through every step helping them discern right from wrong. In these fleeting moments of tribute we glimpsed the true spirit of Teacher's Day, where respect, devotion and love converge leaving a lasting impression on both hearts and minds.

Honouring the hearts that teach beyond books!

Hindi:

Connecting Every Click

The students of Class 5 Delta presented an astute assembly on the role of Hindi in the digital landscape. Through a well-crafted skit, they demonstrated how Hindi makes digital platforms more accessible helping technology reach a wider audience and ensuring that learning and information are inclusive.

Highlighting the cultural significance of language, the students reflected on how Hindi can preserve identity while adapting to modern technology. They emphasized that integrating language with technology nurtures connection and understanding, making the digital experience more meaningful for everyone.

The assembly concluded with a message that Hindi alongside technology can play a key role in shaping an inclusive and empowered digital India.

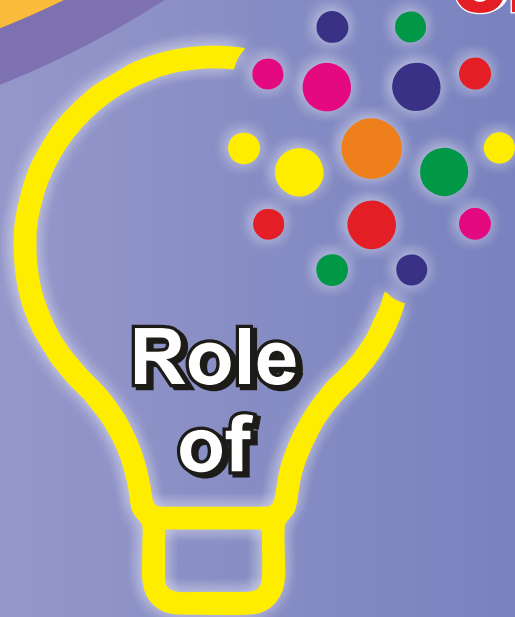

“Digital India is not just about technology; it is about inclusivity and empowerment.”

INNOVATION

in Student Life

BEYOND BOUNDARIES

In their celebration of ingenuity the students of Grade 5 Omega through a moving role play an evocative poem, reminded us that innovation is not only about rockets and robots but about the quiet revolutions shaping our daily lives. The humble ballpoint pen, Wi-Fi connecting curio minds and cloud storage are everyday miracles we often take for granted.

Their act echoed Edison's words, "Genius is one percent inspiration and ninety-nine percent perspiration," showing that even the smallest creative act can be innovation. They reminded us how innovation simplifies life and begins with dreaming, designing and doing.

The assembly culminated in Einstein's timeless truth: "Imagination is more important than knowledge. For knowledge is limited, whereas imagination embraces the entire world, stimulating progress, giving birth to evolution. It served as a reminder that innovation is not privilege but purpose — to dream boldly, create fearlessly and shape a future worthy of our ideals with absolute confidence.

Engineer Day

IGNITING INDIA'S TECHADE

On September 15, students of Grade 6 Delta* came together to honor Sir M. Visvesvaraya, the visionary architect of modern India. They highlighted his extraordinary contributions, including the Krishna Raja Sagara Dam and the invention of automatic floodgates, which revolutionized irrigation and flood control. A skit depicted how today's youth must embrace not only technology but also responsibility. The performance resonated with powerful slogans: "Engineers build more than machines—they build the future!" and "Innovation with care, progress we share!"

Concluding with his timeless words, "To give real service, you must add something which cannot be bought or measured with money," students pledged to become "engineers of a brighter tomorrow".

World Food Day

NOURISH TO FLOURISH

*“Let food be thy medicine and medicine be thy food.”
– Hippocrates*

Students of 6 Omega orchestrated a stirring debate on Healthy Food versus Junk Food, revealing that while junk food offers ephemeral indulgence, nutritive sustenance invigorates the intellect, fortifies the corporeal frame, and cultivates a flourishing future. With resonant slogans like “Fuel with Purpose, Flourish with Pride!” and “Every Bite is a Choice, Every Meal a Mission!”, they highlighted the profound influence of our daily dietary choices. The session concluded with an evocative exhortation: embrace wholesome nourishment, steward your vitality and co-create a sustainable thriving world.

“A book is a dream you hold in your hands, while the web is a world you explore with your mind.”

Old Wisdom, New Ways

Students of Grade 7 Delta recently presented an assembly on the theme “Are Online Resources Better than Books?” They explored the advantages of both, showing how books provide depth, focus and a lasting connection to knowledge while online resources offer quick access, variety and convenience. The students highlighted that neither can replace the other as each holds unique value in learning. Their composed delivery and clear reasoning helped the audience appreciate the need to balance traditional and digital tools for effective education.

Use of technology in learning

"Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world."

– Nelson Mandela

Keeping this thought alive, students of Grade 7 – Omega performed an evocative skit, The Awakening. It traced the journey of a young farmer's son whose curiosity and ambition were stifled by societal pressures and economic constraints, forcing him into agrarian labor and distancing him from his cherished dreams.

A dedicated educator through a counselling session rich in empathy and dialogue, helped the family see that education is not an expense but a generational investment. Inspired, they emerged as torchbearers of change, advocating literacy not only for their child but also their community.

The skit powerfully echoed the belief that "Education is not charity—it is justice," and with absolute confidence, we strive to turn silence into speech, ignorance into innovation and dreams into destinies.

John Milton astutely proclaimed, “Childhood shows the man, as morning shows the day. These words remind us that the beginning often sets the tone for what follows.

In the same spirit at Eduletics, our mornings awaken with the assembly—a vibrant forum where ideas coalesce, voices resonate and the spirit of inquiry orchestrates the rhythm for the day ahead.

Students of 8 Delta spotlighted the urgent need for digital literacy in a hyper-connected era. Students enthralled the audience with persuasive oratory and expressive verse, urging their peers to navigate the digital sphere with discernment, integrity and vigilance.

“In pixels we trust, in truth we must; shift the signal from the noise.”

“A single click may conjure worlds—yet also veil deception's voice.”

The assembly culminated with a resonant message that affirming that true digital mastery lies not in the velocity of clicks but in the wisdom of application ensuring technology remains a force for empowerment not exploitation.
