Message from the Principal

Dear Parents

It gives us true delight to welcome you to the October Edition of our Newsletter — a chronicle of moments that continue to shape young minds with brilliance and grace. October arrives like a quiet sunrise after Dussehra's glow, a time when victory over darkness turns into an invitation for renewal. The festival leaves behind not just tales of courage but a subtle reminder that every end opens the door to a more meaningful beginning. With renewed energy, our students stepped back into the rhythm of learning soon after the vacation, embracing the Post Mid-Term phase with commitment and clarity. The corridors once again echo with curiosity and collaboration as learners prepare to explore new chapters before their next respite. Their energy mirrors the essence of growth — steady, graceful and deeply purposeful. October in all, its festive splendour carries a joy that extends beyond celebrations. It teaches us to connect, to rebuild and to cherish the bonds that make every community thrive. Festivals such as Dussehra, Diwali and Chhath remind our children that light is not merely found in lamps and lanterns but in gestures of empathy, friendship and care for one another. As we move ahead, may the upcoming month unfold with learning that enlightens and experiences that enrich. Let us together nurture an environment where every learner grows not only in intellect but also in compassion, tenacity and grace — values that illuminate the true purpose of education.

Happy reading!
(Team EBS)

GREEN CELEBRATIONS, CLEAN NATION

The students rendered a stirring composition, conjuring images of parched rivers yearning for rain and the earth groaning under the burden of neglect. Their verses imparted a sincere truth: festivals should be commemorated not with excess and waste but with discernment, reverence, and ecological mindfulness.

"We do not inherit the earth from our ancestors; we borrow it from our children."

With the clarion call, "Celebrate Green, Live Clean!" they exhorted everyone to embrace rituals that nurture rather than deplete, transforming celebrations into acts of stewardship. As the concluding line reverberated — "Light a lamp, not the sky with smoke," — the audience sat in spellbound reflection, inspired to forge a sustainable, verdant future.

COLOURS OF TOGETHERNESS

Omega

Just as a rainbow blends many hues into a single breathtaking arc, our students came together to celebrate the rich array of festivals – from the devotion of Chhath, the harmony of Eid, the joy of Christmas, to the gratitude of Baisakhi. Through vibrant performances, soulful songs and heartfelt words, students of 4 Omega illustrated that while our traditions may differ, the essence remains the same – love, care and unity.

As Mahatma Gandhi once said,

“A nation's culture resides in the hearts and in the soul of its people.”

The celebration echoed this truth, reminding us that diversity is not a division but a strength. With rallying slogans like “Many Colours, One Heartbeat!” and “Together We Shine, Like a Rainbow Divine!”, the students inspired everyone to see festivals not as separate events, but as threads weaving one magnificent fabric of togetherness.

When hearts unite like colours in a rainbow, they create a world filled with harmony, compassion and boundless beauty.

MODERN VALUES, FROM MYTHOLOGICAL STORIES

Delta

"Selfless bonds shape not only hearts
but the world around us."

TIMELESS BONDS, MODERN LESSONS

Grade 3 Delta brought to life the timeless tale of Krishna and Sudama, illustrating how enduring friendships can withstand challenges and inspire collective strength. Through expressive enactments and clear narration, the students highlighted Sudama's loyalty and Krishna's generosity as examples of the transformative power of selfless bonds. They conveyed that true friendship rises above wealth, power and circumstance, connecting ancient wisdom to contemporary life.

The skit emphasized that relationships rooted in trust, empathy and integrity are not merely personal treasures but foundations of societal strength. By portraying how mutual respect and devotion help overcome obstacles, the young ones encouraged the audience to reflect on how the timeless values of friendship, humility and solidarity continue to shape and strengthen communities today.

"True friendship is measured not by wealth but by loyalty and love."

FLAMES OF THE FEMININE

The students celebrated the enduring spirit of women by invoking Goddess Durga as the embodiment of Shakti. Through the recitation of the Mahishasura Mardini Stotram, they illustrated the triumph of courage, wisdom and determination over adversity. Quoting Malala Yousafzai, “We cannot all succeed when half of us are held back,” they emphasized that empowering women is vital for societal progress.

Through slogans such as “Educate a Woman, Empower a Nation” and “Strong Women, Strong World,” the performance highlighted how education channels feminine energy into a transformative force. Drawing inspiration from Michelle Obama’s words, “There is no limit to what we, as women, can accomplish,” the students envisioned a society where every woman flourishes with knowledge, confidence and dignity.

“When women rise, societies flourish.”

THE REAL BATTLE OF DUSSEHRA

2 Delta

To remember the traits we must defeat, think of the word
R.A.V.A.N.A.:

R	Rage	: uncontrolled anger that clouds judgment
A	Arrogance	: pride that disconnects us from humility
V	Vengeance	: the desire to harm instead of forgive
A	Addiction	: unhealthy habits that enslave the mind
N	Negativity	: constant pessimism that kills hope
A	Avarice	: greed that blinds us to gratitude

SIGNIFICANCE OF DUSSEHRA

The festival of Dussehra is not just about Lord Rama's victory over the demon king Ravana; it is also a reminder to conquer the Ravana within us — the negative traits that hold us back. Ravana's ten heads symbolize these destructive qualities and burning his effigy signifies the burning of our inner evils.

Mahatma Gandhi's timeless words remind us: "The best way to find yourself is to lose yourself in the service of others." By replacing selfishness with service, we rise above evil.

INDIAN AIR FORCE DAY

8TH OCT

EN MINDSEDALETICS

The students of 2 Omega celebrated Indian Air Force Day with hearts soaring like the majestic aircraft that guard our skies. Through vivid stories of bravery and determination, they showcased how the Indian Air Force stands as the vigilant sentinel of our nation shielding its people with courage and dedication.

Quoting aviators who dared to touch the heavens the students highlighted that discipline, skill and unity are the winds beneath the wings of triumph. With slogans such as "Sky is Not the Limit, Duty is," and "Valor Flies Higher Than the Clouds," they inspired the audience to recognize that the guardians of our skies embody courage, resilience and the indomitable spirit of India.

To touch the skies, one must first conquer the storms within.

ROLE OF TECHNOLOGY IN AIR DEFENCE

“Touch the Sky with Glory”— the resounding motto of the Indian Air Force — echoes not just courage but the boundless innovation that guards our nation's skies. Inspired by this very spirit the young cadets of I Delta presented a spellbinding skit that celebrated the marvel of technology in air defence.

The performance unfolded like a poetic symphony — planes soared guided by NAVIC'S precision, their movements shielded by Akashteer's vigilance and every gesture reflected the might of technology harmonized with human valor. The young performers beautifully illustrated how every radar, every satellite, every missile is a silent guardian of the nation. It was a spectacle where curiosity met patriotism and where the youngest of minds narrated one of the most complex tales of defence with astonishing simplicity and grace.

The performance concluded with the resonating spirit of patriotism, reminding everyone that “Technology is the armour, courage is the soul.”

Our young visionaries embodied the message — “Touch the Sky with Glory, Guard the Nation with Pride.”

Omega

The morning assembly resonated with patriotic fervour as students of 1 Omega celebrated the valour and excellence of the Indian Air Force, founded on 8th October 1932. What began with just a handful of aircraft has now become the fourth-largest Air Force in the world, symbolizing courage, commitment and compassion.

Students proudly recounted the IAF's historic operations — Operation Vijay (Kargil War, 1999) where the might of Operation Safed Sagar roared through the mountains; Operation Meghdoot (1984) where the IAF conquered the heights of Siachen and Operation Cactus (1988) when India swiftly rescued democracy in the Maldives. Beyond the battlefield, the Air Force stood as a beacon of hope through Operation Rahat (Uttarakhand floods), Operation Maitri (Nepal earthquake) and Operation Ganga (Ukraine evacuation) — saving countless lives and proving that courage has no boundaries.

The highlight was Little Commandos Drill by students added a lively touch — their sharp salutes and precise moves mirrored the discipline and spirit of our air warriors. Watching these “little cadets” taking their cues with precision and enthusiasm filled the hall with a deep sense of admiration and patriotic emotion.

In the words of Air Marshal Harjit Singh Arora
“The Indian Air Force is not just about machines, it's about the men behind the machines.”
 It was not merely a performance but a heartfelt tribute — a glimpse of what it means to serve with honour and glory.

HELPING FRIENDS AND LEARNING TOGETHER

The theme "Helping Friends and Learning Together" was brought to life with warmth and creativity.

Presented by 1 Iota, the performance was engaging and thoughtfully executed. The skit used to introduce the theme was both relatable and impactful.

It beautifully illustrated the power of support, teamwork and shared learning. A commendable effort that truly resonated with the audience.

"ALONE WE CAN DO SO LITTLE, TOGETHER WE CAN DO SO MUCH" HELEN KELLER

K2 DELTA

The students of Grade K2 Delta gracefully expressed the importance of being happy and thankful through their soul-stirring presentation. With radiant smiles and tender innocence they conveyed that true happiness lies not in possessions but in moments of kindness, love and thankful reflection. Their eloquent words reflected the simple yet sublime truth that a thankful heart is the root of lasting joy.

Their performance beautifully blended innocence with insight leaving the audience deeply moved. Through their confident expressions and sincere voices the little ones reminded everyone that appreciation transforms ordinary days into blessings. The presentation was a gentle yet powerful reflection on finding happiness in contentment — a message that resonated with warmth and serenity.

“HAPPINESS BLOOMS

IGNITED MINDS

The morning assembly by K2 Omega beautifully marked World Students' Day honouring the life and legacy of Dr.A.P.J.Abdul Kalam —the Missile Man of India and a true mentor of youth.

The presentation began with a powerful declaration: “We are the Young India” — a reminder that the nation's progress rests on the shoulders of its students. The air was charged with enthusiasm as students recreated inspiring moments from Dr. Kalam's life, particularly his heartfelt interactions with children where he would lovingly ask, “What is your ambition?”

Through this act, they captured his timeless message—that every dream no matter how small, holds the power to change the world when pursued with courage and perseverance.

The assembly also reflected on Kalam's vision for India, highlighting his belief in education, innovation and moral strength as the pillars of a developed nation.

The assembly concluded with a peppy dance on the song Ek Zindagi Meri, sau Khwahisen mein Puri Kara — symbolizing the unending zeal, hope and determination of every student to chase their dreams. The assembly served as a beautiful tribute to the teacher, scientist and visionary who continues to ignite young minds, reminding everyone that the future truly belongs to those who dream big and work hard.

Dream, dream, dream. Dreams transform into thoughts, and thoughts result in action.”

ECO FRIENDLY DIWALI

CELEBRATE WITH CARE

"Let's celebrate a Diwali that lights up lives, not the sky."

The theme "Eco-friendly Diwali: Celebrate with care" was joyfully presented by the kindergarten students.

Their confident voices and charming presence captured the audience's full attention. A beautiful skit and thoughtful English conversation highlighted their awareness and talent. It was heartwarming to see children deliver such a strong, meaningful message.

Their performance proved that even the youngest minds can inspire big change.

“Light up lives,
not the environment.”

The school's classrooms radiated festive spirit as students transformed the bulletin board into a vibrant celebration of India's cultural heritage — showcasing Dussehra, Diwali and Chhath Puja through exquisite hand-painted images of idols and traditional scenes.

Through these heartfelt creations, the bulletin board became not just a display but a reflection of devotion, creativity and conscious celebration.

Each festival found its life in colours and symbols. The Dussehra section inspired all to slay the modern-day Ranas — the evils of anger, greed and pride. For Diwali, the board glowed with the Sanskrit shloka:

The theme echoed the timeless prayer -

Lead us from falsehood to truth, from darkness to light - a radiant reminder that true illumination begins within.

The Green Diwali message urged students to celebrate with lights of love and care for the planet instead of crackers.

In the serene depiction of Chhath Puja students lighted the ray of hope — symbolising faith, gratitude and new beginnings.

Through these heartfelt creations, the bulletin board became not just a display but a reflection of devotion, creativity and conscious celebration.

RANGOLI COMPETITION

Eduletes participated enthusiastically in the Rangoli competition. The little ones showcased their creativity through vibrant colors and tiny, talented hands. Each design was a beautiful blend of tradition and imagination. Beyond just decoration, the rangolis conveyed powerful messages—ranging from clean air awareness to the importance of saving Mother Earth, and even patriotic themes like the surgical strike. It was heartwarming to see children express such deep thoughts through art. The event brought joy, learning, and artistic expression together in perfect harmony.

Grade 5 Delta holds Special Appreciation

An eloquent tribute to the ingenious minds of Grade 5 Delta who transformed our school logo into a masterpiece of Rangoli art. With colours that breathed life and patterns that spoke devotion, their creation was not merely a design but a vibrant ode to the spirit of Eduletics. Their artistry mirrored precision, passion and an imagination that painted excellence itself.

EDUVOICE

"Raise your words, not your voice.
It is rain that grows flowers, not thunder."

EDUVOICE

At our school,
we recognize that great teachers are the cornerstone of transformative learning.
EduVoice, a platform designed for professional growth and personal enrichment, nurtures both expertise and reflective practice. The latest session, led by our Vice President Mr. Kanhaiya Kumar, was an interactive experience where every teacher's perspective mattered. Through discussions on questions such as "How do you define true leadership?" and "What matters more: subject knowledge or teaching skill?" educators engaged in meaningful reflection creating an atmosphere of shared learning and broadened insight.

EduVoice celebrates the strengths of our teachers while encouraging continuous evolution as lifelong learners. By elevating existing excellence, the initiative reinforces the principle that confident educators cultivate confident learners. As the session concluded one truth stood out: with absolute confidence our teachers are not just guiding classrooms today — they are shaping the leaders of tomorrow.
