EDULETICS INT.
A BRITISH SCHOOL

Principal's Desk

Dear Readers

Greetings!

As the first month of the year unfolds, it brings with it a quiet pause for reflection and gratitude. We once again extend our heartfelt appreciation to you for your continued support during our Annual Function. The splendour of the occasion was not shaped by performances alone but by the invisible yet invaluable devotion of parents, students and teachers working in harmonious accord. Your enthusiasm, patience and involvement nurtured this event into something truly exceptional, a celebration not just of talent but of togetherness.

January also reminded us of nature's intensity, as severe weather conditions led to the temporary closure of our school. Yet, amid the chill of the season, the warmth of our community spirit was deeply felt. Watching parents and students remain seamlessly connected through digital platforms was both reassuring and inspiring. In this evolving era of learning, your adaptability transformed challenge into continuity, proving that education flows unimpeded when determination and cooperation guide the way.

This month was especially meaningful as we solemnised the Second Foundation Day of Eduletics International A British School. To mark this pinnacle, our teachers and school administration visited Mahavir Mandir, Patna, offering humble gratitude to the Almighty for blessing our institution with stability, progress and purpose. Prayers were offered with sincerity for the school's enduring growth and the well-being of every learner who walks through its doors. It was a moment of reverence, anchoring our journey in faith and humility.

In the same spirit of seeking wisdom, the school organised Saraswati Puja in the presence of our students. The atmosphere was serene and uplifting as we invoked the blessings of the Goddess of Knowledge for intellectual abundance, clarity of thought and overall growth. Such occasions gently remind our children that learning is not merely an academic pursuit but a sacred and enlightening journey.

We also extend our warm wishes on the celebration of the 77th Republic Day of India. Observing this significant day with our students instills values of unity, responsibility and respect for the democratic ideals that shape our nation's destiny.

As January draws to a close, it leaves behind lessons of gratitude, resilience, faith and collective strength. May we move forward with renewed energy, serene confidence and an ever-deepening commitment to excellence. Each ending quietly prepares the dawn of a new beginning. Together, we step ahead with hope luminous and spirits resolute.

Warm regards

Principal

Happy Foundation Day

"From one vision to countless dreams Building minds, Shaping tomorrow!"

Eduletics International A British School marked its Second Foundation Day, commemorating two transformative years dedicated to academic excellence and institutional distinction. Founded on a visionary ethos encapsulated in its guiding principle, Absolute Confidence, the school has consistently worked towards nurturing learners who are intellectually empowered, ethically grounded and globally prepared. With its recent CBSE affiliation, the school has entered a new phase. One that is rooted in academic strength, structured progress and international standards. This achievement is not merely recognition but a reaffirmation of the school's commitment to nurture learners with clarity, competence and absolute confidence.

The occasion was observed with reverence and gratitude as the school team visited Mahavir Mandir to seek divine blessings symbolising humility, reflection and collective gratitude for the journey so far. This solemn observance reaffirmed the institution's belief in value driven education and its resolve to move forward with clarity and conviction. As Eduletics International steps into its third year, it remains anchored in its founding philosophy of Absolute Confidence, poised to scale greater heights through the staunch support of its parent community, the dedication of its educators and the enthusiasm of its learners.

The Second Foundation Day thus serves both as a celebration of achievements attained and a reaffirmation of the school's enduring resolve to excellence, integrity and global educational leadership.

Saraswati Puja celebration

Welcoming Spring in the pursuit of knowledge

On the gentle arrival of Vasant Panchami, the school celebrated Saraswati Puja as a tribute to learning and new beginnings. As spring ushers in freshness and hope, the campus echoed with sacred chants led by the Sanskrit teachers, reminding everyone that education, like nature, unfolds with patience and care. The yellow hues of the season symbolised energy, clarity and growth. The values that lie at the heart of learning.

For the students the celebration became a living lesson: knowledge blooms when nurtured with discipline and devotion. Seeking the blessings of Goddess Saraswati, the school reaffirmed its role as a space where young minds are encouraged to grow, question and flourish - just as spring transforms the earth, education shapes the future.

Vasant Panchami reminds us that learning like spring begins quietly and grows beautifully.

*Education is the springtime of the mind,
where ideas take root.*

With the blessings of Saraswati, knowledge blossoms in every classroom.

Spring teaches us that growth comes with patience, guidance and care.

When education meets spring curiosity turns into creativity.

Republic Day Celebration

Upholding the spirit of constitution

The 77th Republic Day observance opened with a disciplined student parade, followed by the Scouts' salute to the Tricolour, affirming order, duty and civic responsibility. With the unfurling of the National Flag, the gathering was reminded that Sovereignty rests not in symbols alone but in constitutional conduct.

The air resonated with a patriotic song commemorating 150 years of Vande Mataram a lyrical invocation of unity and lawful freedom. In her address, the Principal underscored the idea of a republic as a living institution sustained through education, ethical reasoning and informed citizenship. The true idea of a republic is one that is built daily through education, ethical choices and social responsibility. The students were urged to translate constitutional values into classroom conduct and community action, affirming that "A true republic is sustained when knowledge shapes conscience and values inspire change." The celebration concluded with a renewed resolve to uphold the ideals of justice, equality and liberty not just in ceremony but in practice.

"A republic survives not by celebration, but by constitutional conduct."

"Discipline in Republic."

*"The Tricolour

"A true republic is built in classrooms before it is defended in courts."

*"Victory shines

*"On Republic Day,
we celebrated
not just freedom,
but excellence."*

9. Active Listening Skills

"Hearing is passive listening. It just takes in the spoken word without understanding the word which is not spoken."

Listening is a process of receiving, interpreting, and reacting to the message received by the speaker.

Tips to follow while listening others:

1. Pay attention.
2. Do not do anything else.
3. Do not be judgemental.
4. Ask for clarification.
5. Make proper eye contact.
6. Try to understand the speaker.
7. Listen with your mind and heart also.

EduVoice

Giving Thought a Voice

The EduVoice session was designed as a reflective space where teachers could listen, introspect and grow. It emphasised that true expression in education begins with awareness of one's emotions, intentions and impact. By exploring empathy, kindness and the balance between encouragement and constructive criticism through the framework of emotional intelligence and social-emotional awareness, the session helped educators understand how intention transforms communication into meaningful guidance.

*NEP 2020
reimagines education not in isolation but in conversation with global standards.*

By connecting classroom practices with broader perspectives such as global trust, economic awareness and the vision of NEP 2020, EduVoice reinforced its core belief: teachers are not merely transmitters of content but conscious voices shaping young minds. The focus on a positive attitude, reflective feedback and global relevance demonstrated EduVoice's purpose to empower educators with clarity, sensitivity and a deeper understanding of their role in holistic education.

Empathy and kindness are not reactions they are conscious choices rooted in understanding.

Education today must prepare students not only for employment but for adaptability.

Online classes were conducted to ensure continuity in learning, reinforcing the belief that education does not pause when classrooms close. Students were guided to remain attentive and responsible, as online learning demands greater self-discipline than supervision. Teachers emphasized that technology is a tool not a substitute for effort and reminded students that focus turns a screen into a classroom.

The session also highlighted the importance of interaction and consistency, stressing that a question asked online still holds the power to change understanding. Through preparedness, responsibility and care, the school demonstrated that true commitment is not reflected in comfort but in continuity - nurturing young minds even when nature poses challenges.

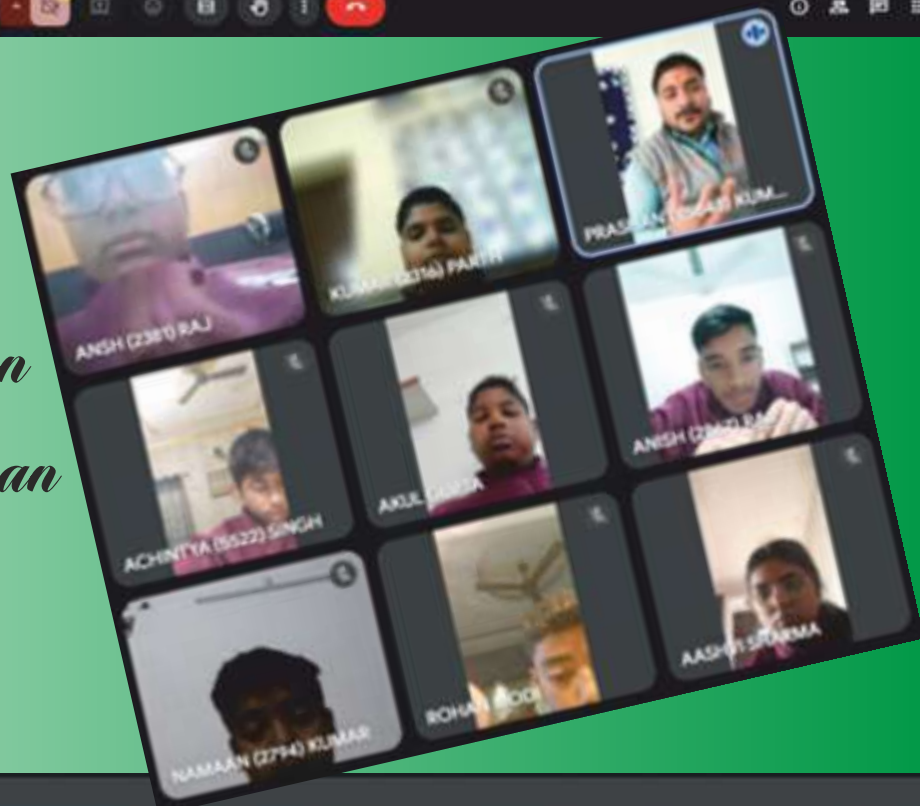

Virtual education tested not just bandwidth but patience, perseverance and self-discipline.

The virtual classroom taught an enduring lesson that adaptability is now an essential academic skill.

*Technology supported learning, teachers
sustained it.*

Lab Visit

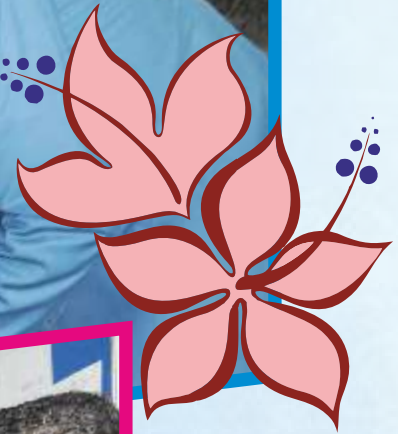

Little explorers, big discoveries!

Today was a special day as our Grade K2 students explored the school's laboratories, their little feet carrying them eagerly from one corner to another. The sparkle of curiosity in their eyes lit up every room they entered.

Each discovery brought wide-eyed wonder and soft laughter, reminding us that learning is most magical when it awakens joy, curiosity and imagination.

*"Small feet wander, minds take flight;
every lab a new delight."*

*"Little hands,
big dreams;
tiny steps,
endless gleams."*

*"Curious eyes,
hearts so bright;
every corner
brings delight."*

*"Exploring here,
discovering there;
learning grows
everywhere."*
